WASHINGTON NEWS.

A Prediction That in Six Years the National Bank Law Will Be Repealed.

Cabinet Making for Cleveland About Closed--Garland and McDonald Considered Certain--Indian Leases.

THE McPHERSON BILL.

The Reason of Its Failure Said to Be That the Committee on Banking and Currency Were Badly Divided Regarding It.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.--"No wonder the McPherson bill allowing National Banks the par value in circulating notes of the bonds deposited with the Treasury as a redemption fund failed of consideration in the House," observed a member of the Committee on Banking and Currency, speaking to your correspondent to-day.

"Why?" he asked.

"Because the committee was just as badly divided on the bill as the House. We wrangled over the report on the measure for hours, and couldn't agree. Every member had an idea of his own. It's no use to talk about enlarging the national banking laws, my son. It will never be done. But I can tell you what will be done before six years."

"What is that?"

"The banking laws will be repealed. I have studied the matter pretty closely, and am unable to see why the Government should regulate banking any more than pork-packing or the insurance business. There is no doubt or disturbance about finance now. It is all settled down on a quiet basis, and people are supposed to stand upon their own legs. In times of wars or governmental troubles of any character, it is well enough to interfere in the business of banking, and if it needs help, to extend it. Now, there is no more necessity of it than there is in favoring any of the thousand and one businesses I could mention. It was this kind of argument that split the sentiment of the committee up into about half a dozen elements. On the subject of finance I never saw a committee yet that could agree to a proposition. It is the most fruitful of opinion of all the issues."

"Why do you think it will not be sooner than six years that the banking laws will be repealed?"

"Because I do not believe the Democratic administration will want to take such an important move during its first term and cause I think it will not hesitate to do it after the next struggle; or, if it should fall in succession, I think the Republican party will be forced to do it."

Some Strange Events Take Place in the Government's Business.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.--A case from the secret service of the Treasury Department has come before the House Committee on Judiciary, which shows that the special agents of the several Departments have no authority even when acting under instructions from their superior officers, to offer a reward for the capture of a law-breaker or anything else. The only way a reward can be paid direct from a department is by the Secretary himself, and it is seldom that he has a contingent fund, out of which it must come.

A special agent of the secret service, acting by direction of the Solicitor of the Treasury, paid $1,000 reward for the capture of a counterfeit in Texas. He has not been refunded yet, and is asking Congress for it. His claim has been decided good and he may get it, but not until ten years after paying it out of his pocket.

The New Orleans Exposition Said to Be a Financial Failure.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.--It is stated in Congressional circles that the management of the New Orleans Exposition is very greatly disappointed at the success of the enterprise. While the exhibition is even more extensive and finer than was expected, the attendance is nothing like that anticipated. It is hinted that there will be a deficiency of large proportions in the expenses of it unless the attendance is almost miraculously large hereafter, and that Congress will be called upon to make some of it good.

Southerners say the attractions at Washington this winter have helped to make the number of visitors small, as hundreds of thousands of people South want to visit this city either in March or later in the spring. Then the hard times everywhere have combined against the Exposition. But the greatest disappointment, it is said, is the patronage coming from the sections south of the Ohio River.

Taken for Granted That Garland and McDonald Will Be in the Cabinet.

Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.--During the past week elements have been at work against Whitney, of New York, for a place in Cleveland's Cabinet. It is said that Senators Bayard, Fendleton and some of the old Democrats in Ohio and Maryland have been leading in the onslaught on Whitney, because his designation would leave Ohio out of the Cabinet.

Beyond the scrimmage that is going on among the Ohio and New York Democrats there is little doing or said about Cabinet matters. It seems taken for granted that Senator Garland, of Arkansas, and ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, are to be Attorney-General and Secretary of the Interior, respectively.

NATIONAL NOTES.

Will Remove the Oklahoma Boomers--Reduction of Newspaper Postage--Live Stock Transportation, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.--The Adjutant General of the Army to-day received a telegram from Brigadier General Auger, commanding the Department of the Missouri, announcing that the number of settlers on Oklahoma land was steadily increasing, having reached nearly 400, and resistance to the Federal authority was threatened. Secretary Lincoln had a conference with the President on the subject this afternoon, the result of which was that General Auger was instructed to concentrate more troops at the settlement and remove the people from the territory in as peaceable a manner as possible.

The House Committee on Postoffices and Post-roads will next Friday consider the various bills relative to a reduction of newspaper postage. The committee is in receipt of a memorial on the subject prepared by Messrs. Morrison, Mumford, Dr. Locke and William Peck, a committee representing the newspaper publishers of the West. The committee was appointed at the last meeting of the Western Associated Press, held at Detroit, to call the attention of Congress to the inequalities of the postal laws bearing on the rate charged for newspapers and periodicals. The memorial says in part: "Newspaper publishers are not mendicants, but they claim to have such regulations to the diffusion of light and knowledge among the people of to-day, and which, we understand is one of the objects for which the postal department of the Government was created--as gives them a right to demand a fair hearing and just treatment. The inequality in the law referred to above would, to a stranger to our institutions, indicate that the Government looked with disfavor upon all publications circulating beyond the confines of the country in which they are published. We certainly understand such is not the case, but believe it will be amply for Congress to permit such consistency to remain on our statute books. We hope you will add nothing to the burdens of the publishers now free, but ask that you will diminish the burdens of those for whom we speak."

Representative Clardy was instructed by the House Committee on Commerce to-day to report favorably Representative Hopkins' resolution, introduced last session, directing that the committee inquire into such evils as may exist in the transportation of live stock. One of the evils cited in the resolution is that by the present system of transporting live stock by railroad companies ten per cent of the animals perish in consequence of barbarous treatment, and the flesh of the dead animals is sold to the public. Representatives Hopkins and C. H. McKenna, members of the American Humane Society, addressed the committee in behalf of the resolution.

The committee also decided to report a bill providing for a light-house at Grand Marais, Mich.

The Senate Committee on Pensions favorably reported a bill to place upon the pension rolls the name of Margaret G. Halpine, widow of Lieutenant Colonel Halpine, author of the war songs which appeared under the nom de plume of "Private Miles O'Reilly." His death was due to an overdose of chloroform, taken to alleviate suffering caused by his military services. The Pension Bureau held that as his death was not directly attributable to his military service, his widow could not be pensioned under the general pension laws.

The Secretary of War has declined to order a court martial for the trial of Chief Signal Officer Hazen, on charges preferred by Lieutenant Garlington, and has decided to take no further action regarding the relief expedition.

Indian Lease Found.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.--Thomas B. Berry, of Wellington, Kas., one of the lessees of the vacant lands of the Sac and Foxes, testified to-day before the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs, that Special Agent Townsend, of the Indian Bureau, and a licensed trader, Pickett, obtained lease while they were officers of the Government for the Iowa. They had tried to get less from the Sac and Foxes, but the witness was instrumental in preventing it. Townsend used his authority as a Government Agent to procure the lease. The Iowa, so Berry testified, had not acquired title to their reservation and Townsend made them believe he would get a title for them if they would give him a lease. Witness said the Indians believed Townsend was the Government, and in their belief they let him have a lease. Berry also charged that Townsend used money to get his lease. He preferred charges against Townsend before the Indian Bureau, but did not hear from them until he got Senator Plumb to inquire about it. He was then advised that Townsend had resigned and the referee of the Indian Commission could do nothing with him. Witness testified that it was understood that corruption and fraud were used to obtain the Cherokee Strip leases.

Presidential Reception.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.--The second of the regular receptions of the President for the season was given at the White House to-night in honor of Congress and the Supreme Court. There was a large and brilliant company in attendance. The President received his guests in the blue parlor, and was assisted by Mrs. McElroy, Miss Frelinghuysen, Mrs. McCulloch, Mrs. Brewster, Mrs. Hatton and Mrs. Teller.

Nellie C. Bailey Acquitted of the Charge of Murder.

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 20.--In the United States District Court to-day, Nellie C. Bailey was acquitted of the charge of the murder of a wealthy Englishman named Bothamely, with whom she was traveling in the Indian Territory. Defendant maintained that Bothamely shot himself, and there were witnesses to the affair. The case was quite sensational and the defendant has quite romantic history. She is a handsome woman, well-educated and has figured as a social belle at the Eastern watering places. She has written a play, and during her confinement in jail has been engaged in writing a novel. She has had three husbands, and gained notoriety by her adventures. The Court Room was crowded and much interest displayed.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Considering the Question of Subsidizing Steamship Lines to Africa.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.--There was a meeting to-day of the committee of the Reichstag to which the Steamship Subsidy bill was referred. Dr. Hephner, the Imperial Postmaster-General, was present and spoke in favor of making a moderate provision from the coffers of the Empire toward the support of steamship lines to East and West Africa. He considered the establishment of such lines a matter of great importance, in view of the expansion of German colonial interests. Without this the State line already in existence will be unable to survive in the face of English competition.

Reconquering the Berber Road.

Khartoum, Jan. 20.--General W. H. Murray telegraphs that the cavalry and camel corps from Hamda reconquered thirty-five miles on the Berber Road. They met few natives. This movement will disturb the Berberians, who expect the English will advance across the desert.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 20.--The Rudger Clawson polygamy case was argued in the Territorial Supreme Court to-day and taken under advisement. An open venire and the exclusion of Mormons from the jury points to the issue. C. W. Penrose, editor of the Deseret News, the church organ, is being sought by the officers to day on the charge of polygamy. They searched the office, but he could not be found. Angus M. Cannon was arrested to-day for polygamy and held in $2,500 bail for examination to-morrow.

DESTRUCTIVE FLAMES GET IN THEIR WORK AT DAYTON AND CLEVELAND, OHIO.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCES.

A Young Man Disappears Under Suspicious Circumstances--His Uncle Also Has Been Missing Three Months.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 20.--A young man named Joe Rehill is missing from his home in Allegheny, and the circumstances attending his disappearance are such as to give a suspicion of fool play. Rehill is about twenty-three years of age, and a nephew of William Kelly, a notion peddler, who mysteriously disappeared from home about three months ago, since which time nothing has been heard of him. The young man boarded with Mrs. Kelly, and about one month ago decided to take charge of Kelly's business. Consequently he got possession of the latter's horses, wagon and stock and started on the road. The first week he succeeded so well that he concluded to continue peddling, and in order to replenish his stock of goods, returned home. He started out again the following week, intending to be absent seven days, but as yet has not put in an appearance. His friends are very frantic over his prolonged absence and fear he has been foully dealt with. They say this is a strange coincidence in the disappearance of Kelly and Rehill; that shows both have been waylaid and murdered probably by the same assassin. The goods Rehill's wagon at the time of his disappearance were worth nearly $500.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Book Manufacturing Establishment Damaged $35,000.

DAYTON, O., Jan. 20.--A fire was discovered in the patent blank-book manufacturing establishment of Reynolds & Reynolds, this evening about 7 o'clock. When the Fire Department arrived the flames had gained great headway, and the difficulty of the night was in the zero weather, but it was successfully made. In the building are twelve presses, valued at $25,000, type worth $10,000, and a stock of $12,000. After two hours of hard fighting the flames were conquered, but the stock was damaged to a great extent. The loss of the stock is estimated at $35,000; insured in nineteen American and foreign companies for about $2,000 each; total, $42,500. The building was owned by George Shaw and Ed. Barney. A Methodist Trance Medium.

SPECIAL TO THE SENTINEL.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Jan. 20.--The M. E. Church of this place have secured the services of an evangelist lady named Ward, who has been conducting meetings day and night for a week. She has the faculty of going into a trance and lying apparently unconscious for hours, and says she is at that time holding great converse with spirits from the Heavenly Shore and feasting upon manna. Last night was cited a scene the like of which was never before witnessed by this people. Thirty or forty were crowding the anxious seat at once, and shouts and songs and loud demonstrations of joy in every form were indulged in. Four of the number went into a trance. One young lady remained unconscious so long that they thought her dead and carried her home on a stretcher; she is about to-day. Hundreds flock day and night to hear Mrs. Woodworth. Some of the converts are giving expressions of great endorsement from on high. One young man says he can "walk on the water" and even fly, and a young man who had attended for several nights and was a scoffer at the scenes before him, was suddenly struck down and lay for several hours unconscious, and is now one of the most zealous workers in the cause.

Awkward Position of Governor Oglesby.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 20.--At a meeting of the Illinois Tile Makers' Association here to-day, Hon. Richard J. Oglesby, who was expected to deliver the address of welcome, said he had accepted the invitation to do so with the supposition that he would be Governor when the association convened. The time fixed by the Constitution for the Governor-elect to take the oath of office was a week ago yesterday, but owing to the deadlock in the Legislature, preventing an organization of that body, he could not yet be sworn in. After alluding at some length to his awkward position, Mr. Oglesby confined his remarks strictly to the subject of tile draining. He made no address of welcome.
